Norman A. Gray House
St. Leonard's
Private

c. 1919

This handsome two story house was built by the Negro housewright, Norman A. Gray. Originally it consisted of side passage with single parlor, but in the early 1930's a two story, three bay Block was added to the back of it. The bay windows in the original^{block} are sheltered by a shed porch. Above the windows are shingled hand crafted by Gray in a diamond design.

Gray House

While brown wooden shingles were not as popular in Calvert County as elsewhere at the turn of the century. There are, nevertheless, a few examples of what Vincent Scully termed a "style." This is one of them. This rather large L-shaped house has other notable Victorian features such as swell-front which is juxtaposed with a deeply corniced gable decorated with wooden fishscale shingles.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is typical insofar as it is a two-story wooden frame structure with a gable-end roof. There are actually three gables as it has an L-plan. The exterior is covered with brown wooden shingles. There are full "front" and "back" porches.

The house faces east and is only a few yards off Route 2 and 4. Its east or front facade is the "main" facade and contains the most notable features. A two-story swell-front is the most distinctive of these. It is a polygonal section, which at its peak interlocks with a deep-corniced gable that has been decorated with fishscale shingles. A full porch wraps around the swell-front covering the first story and continuous along the south side of the house. A large porch covers the back or west facade as well. Although these porches shield the first level from sun the fenestration appears to be designed for a maximum of light. Modern aluminum windows replace what appears to have been 2/2. The swell-front is a particular "light catcher."

The interior is arranged according to the L-plan with a long side-hall wing along the north side. The living area occupies the front and the kitchen, the back. A single flue chimney has a central location where the principal wings meet.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story frame house was built in two sections. The first, built in 1919, faces west towards Route 4 and consists of a two story block with bay windows and has a side hall passage with double parlor plan. The second was added to the east side (rear) of the original in the 1930's, according to the son of the builder, Norman A. Gray. That block also is two stories in height, has a three bay facade, and is aligned perpendicular to the original block. Like the original, it has two rooms downstairs and two upstairs, though in a central hall plan. The exterior of the house is sheathed in wood shingles, the ones above the windows in the projecting bay of the facade being hand-crafted by the builder in a diamond design.

Black History

SPECIFIC DATES c. 1919

BUILDER/ARCHITECT Norman A. Gray

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

According to David Gray, his father Norman built this house in c. 1919. His father was a houswright in this area of Calvert County. The primary significance of this is that he is only independent, black contractor to have been located during this survey in the first quarter of the 20th century. His son David has continued with his father's profession.

As part of this survey, family photographs of Norman Gray, his wife Rosa (Bourne) Gray, and his son and daughter in-law (David A. and Dorothy) were copied. See the collection of slides.
